Fidel Castro Warns Against Intervention by U.S. In Cuba

Rebels' Leader Won't Call Halt To Executions

American 'Pressure' Eased by Statement Of State Department

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro says Cuba's revolutionary regime wants good relations with the United States, but not at the price of halting executions because of American criticism.

Castro warned Thursday against any U.S. intervention to stop executions ordered by military courts for murder and torture during Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship.

"If the United States comes here, we will make trenches in the streets," the rebel leader told the Havana Rotary Club. The State Department said in Washington that American policy was "strictly one of nonintervention in Cuban domestic affairs."

Noting some U. S. congressional protests to the executions, Asst. Secretary of State Roy Rubottom said, "We are not going to intervene in what is essentially Cuba's affairs."

Canceled Previous Plans

To avoid misunderstanding, the U.S. Navy canceled previous plans for 3,000 U.S. Marines en route to maneuvers near Puerto Rico to stop at the American Navy base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Castro earlier Thursday, in remarks to a group in his hotel lobby, had said that if U.S. Marines are sent to Cuba "200,000 gringos will die." Gringo is the derogatory Latin American term for U.S. citizens. There are 12,000 of them in Cuba.

Castro later told the Rotary Club he had not realized this comment would be published but he stood by it.

The rebel chief's vision of U.S. troops landing in Cuba apparently stemmed from demands by critics in the U.S. Congress that the United States do something to stop the Cuban firing squads.

With the total of reported executions at 197, the provisional government acted belatedly to legalize the death sentences already carried out.

A government decree modified the provision of Cuba's 1940 constitution prohibiting capital punishment.

In his refuge in the Dominican Republic, Batista called the executions "perverse attempts to justify (rebel) crimes."

Bob Kennedy's Group Quizes Union in Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP)—The U. S. Senate Rackets Committee is conducting a number of investigations in Ohio involving the Teamster Union and Operating Engineers Local 18, says Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel for the committee. Kennedy questioned more than 20 members of the operating engineers' statewide local Thursday on their complaints against Local President Frank P. Converse. A group of insurgents within the union has accused Converse of holding "dictatorial control."

Kennedy also questioned about a dozen juke box and coin machine operators or their legal representatives. He said the committee is investigating an alleged tieup of gangsters with the machine operators and the Teamsters-affiliated Vending Machine Employees Union. He said the committee is investigating Teamsters locals generally and the alleged tieup of some of their leaders with racketeers.

Ohio Teamsters' chief William Presser will be called for a new appearance in Washington, Kennedy said, when the Senate committee holds hearings on vending machine operations.

Earl Smith Has Resigned

New Ambassador Sought for Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional pressures mounted today for the prompt naming of a new U.S. ambassador to Cuba where the revolutionary government says it plans more executions.

Demands for a new ambassador to replace Earl E. T. Smith who resigned last Saturday came with strong congressional criticism of the executions as developments piled up on several fronts:

1. The State Department assured Congress it is standing pat on its policy of not interfering in the affairs of its neighbors. It denied charges the United States had given military help to ousted Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista.

2. The Navy ordered a task group that includes 3,000 Marines diverted from an intended stop at Cuba "to avoid any misunderstanding."

Wants Good Relations
3. Rebel leader Fidel Castro said he wants good relations with the United States, but cautioned against any U.S. intervention in Cuba. Castro vowed 200,000 gringos (U.S. citizens) will die if Marines are sent to Cuba.

4. Batista charged executions by Castro's rebels are "perverse attempts to justify their crimes."

The call for prompt naming of a successor to Smith, who was in disfavor with the rebels, was spearheaded by Sens. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) and John Sparkman (D-Ala) after Asst. Secretary of State Roy R. Rubottom talked with congressional leaders.

The most important thing we can do now," Morse said, "is to get an ambassador there. Steps are being taken quickly to accomplish that end. That will give us

Harry Loria New City Consulting Engineer

Harry A. Loria, 47, of 888 N. Union Ave., an employee in the manufacturing engineering section of the Youngstown Kitchens Division in Warren, has been appointed consulting engineer for the city, effective Feb. 1. Mayor Harold Smith announced today.

He replaces George S. Bloomgren of East Liverpool who has been consulting engineer for the past five years.

Mayor Smith said the change was made because the administration feels it would benefit the city to have a local man in this position.

Loria received his Bachelor of Science degree from West Virginia University in 1937 and was registered as a professional engineer in Ohio in 1944.

Loria joined the Mullins Manufacturing Co. in 1940 and remained on the staff when it became Youngstown Kitchens Division of American Standard.

Atlas Missile Test Proves Unsuccessful

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atlas missile test fired from Cape Canaveral Thursday night flew less than 200 miles, the Air Force announced today. It said there was trouble in the rocket engine system.

The brief announcement was made at Air Force headquarters here.

The 80-foot war rocket roared through a mass of low hanging clouds on what appeared to be a beautiful start Thursday night, but hours later there still was no word on the results of the spectacular test.

The Atlas moon, which relayed back President Eisenhower's "peace on earth" greeting during the Christmas holidays, now is silent and is expected to burn up in the earth's atmosphere within the next five days.

Thursday night's missile gleamed in the rays of floodlights for about a half hour and then thundered toward space at 11 p.m.

As the missile flashed into the night sky a fleet of recovery ships gathered off Ascension Island near the African coast awaiting the nose cone's re-entry through the earth's atmosphere.

Official Seeks Insurance For Student Drivers

Courses Offered in 710 State Schools Without Liability

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Every youngster who takes a driver training course in an Ohio school also takes a risk, safety and education officials admit. They hope the legislature will do something about it.

The director of safety and education for the Ohio State Auto Assn., Charles D. Vibberts, explains it this way:

"Because of an Ohio attorney general's ruling, the 710 schools in the state which offer driver training cannot take out liability insurance for youngsters taking the course."

"Unless the parents arrange coverage—and I can tell you very few have—the youngster is not protected. Those who teach the course usually have some kind of coverage as a matter of personal protection."

"We hope the legislature will amend the law to permit insurance protection."

$34 Per Student
Vibberts and P. C. Bechtel, head of the State Education Department's Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Safety Sub-Division, agree that driver training in Ohio costs about $34 per student, approximately the national average for such courses.

Records indicate no school is using more than one car. All are equipped with dual controls. Between 650 and 675 of the 710 cars now being used are supplied by automobile dealers in communities near the school, Bechtel says, and where rent is charged, it varies with the community.

"It's a personal opinion, but I think the time will come when school boards will have to buy cars, just as they do other equipment, and not depend on outside sources," Vibberts adds.

At present, 830 teachers, 14 principals and 13 superintendents are teaching driver training at 166 city, 456 county, 69 exempted village, 15 private and parochial.

North Winds Lash Across East States

By The Associated Press
Wintry weather, after a short rest, was back in business today, dealing arctic air and gusty winds across most of the eastern two-thirds of the country.

Stiff northerly winds, with gusts up to 40 m.p.h., swept across wide areas of the midcontinent, fanning the cold air southward into the western Gulf region and eastward across the Appalachians.

Sub-zero cold and biting winds resting northern Midwest regions. Most of the north central region shivered in near zero temperatures.

Temperatures of 15 degrees below zero and lower were reported in northern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota, with similar marks indicated in parts of South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Police Investigate Two Auto Accidents

Two accidents were investigated by the State Highway Patrol on district roads Thursday.

An auto driven by Leslie Farrell Jr., 18, of East Liverpool backed into a car operated by John March, 43, of East Liverpool on County Road 427, one mile north of its intersection with Rt. 7, between East Liverpool and Wellsburg, at 11:30 p.m., patrolmen reported.

Farrell was arrested for improper backing, patrolmen said. A truck driven by Hubert Weth went off the right side of Alt. Rt. of Salem at 3:10 p.m. when the 14 and into a ditch one mile east of Salem at 3:10 p.m. when the brake line broke while the vehicle was rounding a curve.

Ike May Envoke His Veto Power To Keep Budget

Fiscal Year Talk Expected to Urge Squeeze on Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today was reported ready to make forceful use of his veto power if necessary to maintain the scant surplus in the 77-billion-dollar budget he will send to Congress Monday.

The message for fiscal 1960, which starts July 1, is expected to urge bipartisan support for an anti-inflationary squeeze on federal spending and closing of tax loopholes.

Eisenhower's target, administration sources have hinted, is to cut outlays to a level slightly above 77 billion dollars. It is hoped that revenues will exceed that amount, although the margin may be only 100 million dollars or less.

There will also be some bad fiscal news in the message, officials conceded—a slightly higher deficit than was anticipated for the current budget year.

Expected To Mount

Spending this year is expected to mount fairly close to 81 billion dollars, instead of the $79,200,000,000 estimated officially in September. Much of the increase is attributed to the proposed $140,000,000 increase in this country's subscription to the International Monetary Fund, which Eisenhower recommended last week.

Revenues will have risen to more than 68 billion dollars instead of the 67 billion officially predicted. But when the government year ends next June 30 the deficit reportedly will exceed by several hundred million dollars the earlier estimate of $12,200,000,000.

Officials said mounting concern over the depreciation of the dollar, coupled with concern lest this country eventually price itself out of world markets, has reinforced the administration's decision to make a strong stand against deficit financing.

Administration aides suggested Eisenhower will use the carrot.

Sabatino Testifies In Youngstown Trial

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—In broken English a 67-year-old retired steelworker on trial for manslaughter said he "saw men coming toward me with their fists up" when he fired shots that killed two persons.

Gray-haired Joseph Sabatino, concluding the case in his defense Thursday, testified:

"I didn't want to kill anyone. I was scared. The gun went off and after that I blacked out. I don't remember anything."

Shot fatally were Mrs. Jack Little, Sabatino's next door neighbor, and Roland Page, a guest at a swimming party the Littles held on a Sunday afternoon last July.

The shooting climaxed a long feud between the two families about the Littles' backyard swimming pool.

The immediate cause of the fatal quarrel was a piece of sod Mrs. Sabatino threw over the fence into the swimming pool.

"I told her, don't do that," Sabatino testified. He said Dr. Little and two other men came onto his property and he was knocked to the ground and "someone stomped on my hand."

He said he got up, went into the house and got his revolver.

"I had no intention to shoot anyone," he insisted. He said his wife was surrounded by a group of shouting people and "I wanted to get my wife and get her into the house."

MIKOYAN OBLIGES — Anastas I. Mikoyan walked into a news conference at the United Nations in New York Thursday and raised one arm in greeting. The photographers asked him to raise both arms, so he did, in this fashion. Soviet U.N. delegate Arkady Sobolev stands behind the Russian deputy premier. Mikoyan renewed Soviet demands for an East-West summit meeting.

Mikoyan, Dulles in 'Showdown' Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anastas I. Mikoyan and John Foster Dulles confronted each other today for a showdown talk on bitter U.S.-Soviet differences over divided Germany and the future of Berlin.

This was the second round for the two veteran antagonists of the cold war. The Soviet Union's deputy premier and the secretary of state first conferred almost two weeks ago. That was an inconclusive discussion.

Since then, Mikoyan has made a cross-country tour during which he exhibited a spirit of friendliness and talked extensively of peace and trade possibilities. He had a chance also to check on the attitude of the American people and their thoughts on the cold war.

As the two men met today, Dulles wanted to know primarily whether the Soviet government is prepared to enter into serious negotiations later this year looking toward an eventual German settlement.

Presumably Anxious
Mikoyan presumably was anxious to find out whether the United States has any counter proposals to make to recent Soviet demands for withdrawal of Western forces from West Berlin and for an early start on writing a German peace treaty.

Mikoyan told a New York news conference Thursday his country still wants a summit conference on world problems. He said the West cannot sidestep one forever.

He expressed interest in Dulles' statement Tuesday that free elections were not the only way to reunify Germany. But he contended that Dulles "did not come up with a constructive alternative" to the Soviet plan.

Dulles modified his news conference remark a bit, saying through a spokesman that free elections afford the most natural and practical method. But his mention of possible other methods—his first such suggestion in years—could introduce a degree of flexibility in the U.S. position in case the Russians seriously want to negotiate.

State Department officials said Mikoyan's cross-country tour appears to have been a great success from the Soviet viewpoint. But they have found little evidence of a real Soviet willingness to make any concessions to solve the East-West dispute over Germany.

Temperatures May Drop To Zero Tonight

4-Inch Snowfall Recorded Here As Winter Returns

After a brief respite, King Winter returned to Salem and the rest of Ohio Thursday night, bringing another snowfall that left streets and highways slippery and drifted in some areas.

The Weather Bureau forecast continued snow flurries, with the temperature dropping to zero tonight.

The new snow, measuring four to six inches, began yesterday afternoon and increased in intensity during the night. The snow was followed today by a new cold wave and continued snow flurries which made driving conditions hazardous throughout the state.

Columbiana County roads are drifting and slippery in spots, reported John Neill, Jr., superintendent of county highways, but snowplow trucks are keeping all major thoroughfares open. Hills and other slippery sections are being ashed, he said.

Ohio turnpike drivers were advised to use reasonable care.

Temperatures Drop
Thermometers registered 12 degrees in Salem at nighttime but the weather forecast called for lower readings tonight. It was 23 at midnight, evidencing a colder trend today.

Thursday's snow was heaviest in northeast Ohio, with 10 inches on the ground at Ashtabula, 3 to 8 in the greater Cleveland area, 4½ to 6 at East Liverpool, 4 at Akron and Youngstown, 3 at Zanesville, 2 at Columbus and only 1 at Cincinnati.

The Ohio Department of Highways reported both main and secondary roads are snow-covered and slippery with some drifting, except west of a line marked by Batavia, Wilmington, Urbana, Van Wert, Defiance, Tiffin and Port Clinton.

The department reported three

Woman Granted Divorce from Her Father's Slayer

LISBON — An East Liverpool woman paralyzed by a bullet fired by her husband who is serving a life sentence in Ohio State Penitentiary for the murder of her father, was granted a divorce from him at a court hearing conducted in her home Wednesday.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp held court at the home of Mrs. Dorothy E. Moore on a petition filed by her husband, Richard E., on grounds of gross neglect. The husband charged that his wife failed to visit him at the prison.

The judge granted the divorce to Mrs. Moore on a cross petition on grounds of extreme cruelty. He ordered Moore to pay maximum support, while he remains in prison and to pay $25 a week support if he ever gains his freedom.

Moore was convicted of the murder of Howard Williams July 11, 1942. During the wild shooting spree, Moore shot his wife in the spine and slightly wounded her mother, Mrs. Edna Williams, and her brother-in-law, Paul Irvin. Belief that his wife was keeping company with other men launched Moore on the shooting spree, authorities said.

The Moores were married Aug. 26, 1936 and separated Jan. 1, 1941. They have one child.

Moore was not present at the hearing; depositions taken from him at the prison were used.

INCOME TAX PRIMER:

Benefits of Filing Joint Return

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Written for NEA Service
(Tenth of 12 Chapters)

The old saying, "two can live as cheaply as one," has received cynical treatment from many a husband harassed by mounting household bills.

The income tax field, however, is one place where it can even be said that "two can live cheaper than one."

Take Mr. X's situation. He's a $50,000-a-year bachelor who pops the marriage question to his fiancée in December and hints for a Jan. 1 wedding date.

Although she has no income, the girl (like most girls) is smart. She knows that if they get married on Dec. 31, they can file a joint income tax return for the year, whereas if they wait until Jan. 1, he will have to report $50,000 on a separate return.

A little figuring shows that a joint return will save them more than $6,000 in taxes for the year. Needless to say, they were happily married on Dec. 31.

YOU MIGHT THINK from the above story that couples with year-end wedding plans should always get married before Jan. 1 so they can file a joint return and save taxes.

Unfortunately, here, like so many areas of tax law, you can't take much for granted. If you do, you may end up like Mr. Y.

Mr. Y is a $10,000-a-year bachelor and a friend of Mr. X. Know how well Mr. X made out, he decides to impress his gal with the idea of getting married on Dec. 31 and taking a honeymoon on the tax he thinks will be saved by filing out a joint return.

His girl (like most girls) is smart. She knows that since she is also making $10,000 a year and since they don't have enough deductions to itemize, that they not only would not save any money by filing a joint return but that it would cost them about $300 in additional taxes to get married before Jan. 1.

HOW COME? The standard deduction for married couples cannot exceed $1,000 on a joint return or $500 on separate returns. Unmarried persons, however, can claim up to a $1,000 standard deduction. By postponing the marriage until Jan. 1, each would use the full $1,000 standard deduction for the previous year.

For taxpayers who are already married, it will almost always be advisable to file a joint return. This is particularly true if one spouse has little or no income. However, if both are working and earning approximately the same salaries, the tax should be computed both ways to make sure the cheaper method is used.

For example, suppose John Q.

'Head of Household' Test

Answer the following questions and then compare your answers with the answer chart:

Questions Answers Explanations

1. Did you furnish more than half the cost of maintaining the home where you lived in 1958? Yes — No — Include in the cost, property taxes, mortgage interest, rent, utility charges, upkeep and repair, property insurance and food consumed at your home. Do not count clothing, education, life insurance and transportation.

2. Did you have living with you in the home any relative described in (a) or (b) of the explanation? Yes — No — (a) Your child (natural or adopted), a grandchild, or a stepchild. If such a child is unmarried, it doesn't matter if he has income of $600 or more, or if you don't contribute more than half his support. If he is married, he must be your dependent. (b) Any other relative who is your dependent. Do not count an unrelated person living with you even though he may be your dependent. Also do not count a dependent you claim under a multiple support agreement as described in Article 3.

3. Did the relative described in 2 above live with you during 1958 or up to the date of his or her death except for temporary absences? Yes — No — A relative at college is considered temporarily absent from your home if he lives with you during vacations.

4. Did you furnish more than half the cost of any home in which either your dependent mother or father lived during 1958? Yes — No —

5. Were you a non-resident alien any time during 1958? Yes — No —

ANSWERS: You qualify as the head of household if you answered 4 "yes" and 5 "no," regardless of what your answers to the first 3 questions were. If you answered 4 "no," then you qualify only if your answer to 5 is "no" and answers to the first 3 questions are "yes."

Public earns $2,495 and his wife earns $2,470. If they compute their tax by using the Tax Table (which they must use unless they itemize deductions) and have no other exemptions, separate returns would save them $5 in tax. The reason is that the Tax Table figures the tax at the mid-point of the bracket. Any income above that point but below the next bracket escapes tax.

REMEMBER THAT a joint return can be filed if the spouses were husband and wife on the last day of the tax year, or on the date one spouse died, provided the survivor doesn't remarry during the year. Spouses who were divorced or legally separated under a final court decree by the last day of the taxable year cannot file a joint return.

Some unmarried persons can qualify as the "head of household" and are entitled to use a special tax table which gives about half the tax break given to those who file a joint return when one spouse has no income.

To determine whether you qualify as the head of the household, answer the questions in the box printed with this article and then compare your answers with the answer chart.

Right Arm to the Highway Patrol

Organized back in the early days of World War II, the American Legion Auxiliary of the Ohio Highway Patrol continues to function as an integral component of the Patrol, especially in Columbiana County.

The Legionnaires, a select group of trusted and specially trained men, take turns riding with regular officers on night road patrols and assisting the highway patrolmen in directing traffic at accident scenes, helping the injured, protecting property and, in general, performing any service where duty calls.

The Auxiliary members have proven invaluable in sudden emergencies and their testimony in court cases frequently corroborates that of the regular patrolmen.

Distinctly a Legion service group, the auxiliary members take pride in the duties that they perform, and rightfully so. To qualify they must first pass a 20-week-long training course with the Patrol after having been approved as to physical fitness and as security risks.

In addition to keeping regular officers company on a sometimes lonely night time job, the 57 Columbiana County Auxiliary patrolmen are performing a real public service. They deserve our commendation.

Castro's Reforms To Take Some Proving

The United States, reflecting the good will of its citizens, has wasted no time giving diplomatic recognition to the Urrutia regime in Cuba. Everybody is hoping for the best, Washington included.

Fidel Castro's revolution has materialized at long last in a sunburst of hope and reform — hope for constitutional government and a clean break with the U.S. gamblers who had been throwing their weight around in Cuban politics. Castro is supposed to have decreed that gambling must go.

A Cuban government without taint of corruption would be something to see. Any government without taint of corruption would be something to see, as far as that's concerned. But there has been a promise made and a policy published by the incoming regime of Cuba.

Perhaps it means no more than the promises and policies of other new Cuban governments. Corruption in Cuban politics was not invented by the Battistans, who came to power themselves during a reaction from brazen corruption. Perhaps they really meant what they said when they were new and fresh.

Undoubtedly, the men and women who lined up with Castro to overthrow the Battista regime mean it now when they promise clean constitutional government immediately and free elections within two years. The thing to watch will be signs of deteriorating purpose as time goes on and all the potential forces of corruption are exerted relentlessly.

Among them will be the gamblers who have thought of Cuba as a fruitful area for exploitation, U.S. gambling-style. If the Urrutia government and the Castro revolutionists can deal successfully with them, they have a chance to carry out their promises and policies for Cuba. But there is only one way to deal successfully with gambling and gamblers, and that is to refuse to deal with them at all. That will not be easy in Cuba.

Mikoyan Could Be a Guided Missile

A suspicion is current in Washington that Anastas Mikoyan is turning out to be a one-man guided missile in a new kind of cold warfare.

The possibility that he may have zipped over the heads of diplomats and scored a direct hit on the U.S. business community is said to be causing deep concern. In the strategy of economic warfare, which is believed to be the new interest of the Soviets, the deputy premier ranks as the leading general. He is Russia's foremost economic expert.

In economic warfare, if that is going to be the Kremlin's next big move, the United States would be left high and dry with a policy of military containment. Moreover, it would be left high and dry with the policy of waiting for the Soviet Union to make the first move and then reacting to it. It would have to learn to take the initiative.

This country's business interests would be vitally concerned by every move. To the extent that they could have a meeting of minds on economic exchange with Russia, as in the exchange of finished steel for chromium ore announced last week, they, themselves, would be part of the strategy of the economic warfare.

The net effect would be to put businessmen ahead of diplomats in the order of importance. That alone is enough to cause concern in Washington, where the government cannot help but be conscious of the way Russia's No. 2 man has gone over political heads to make hundreds of new contacts with U.S. businessmen.

He has made the impression of a man who knows exactly what he is doing and therefore can go about it with complete assurance. Politically, Mikoyan is no different than he was before. He is part of the political apparatus of the Soviet Union that President Eisenhower insists cannot be trusted and Secretary of State Dulles views with sour skepticism.

But businesswise, Mikoyan has revealed

Once Over

Man on $18 relief in New York ran it into $22,000 playing market. The city is making him pay back all he got from Welfare rolls. It should let him keep the money and work it out as chief of city fathers struggling with financial problem. (This fellow would come up with something brighter than taxing draft beer.) Even Washington could use him.

A man who had enough left out of $18 a week (unless he lived in trees and ate with woodpeckers) to make initial stock purchase and pile up 22 grand is a market analyst, financial wizard and economic wonder. Government can use him. It takes genius to be successfully dishonest on $72 a month.

OF COURSE HE HAD advantage in market. He was always immune to the warning. Anybody who plays with stocks can wind up on relief rolls. Most men, even if they had $22,000 to start with, would finish with $18. Fancy a chat between this relief-roll fellow and broker:

Q. Do you want profit or steady income?
A. I've got a steady income.

Q. You wouldn't be interested in City Bonds then, would you?

A. No. I have reason to question the way the city handles its money.

Q. How would you like the Gypsum stocks?
A. They'd be right up my alley.

Q. Are you interested in brass securities?
A. Brass is my specialty.

Q. Have you enjoyed any stock splits?
A. Yes. Municipal Generosity split two for one and the Welfare Department booboo paid me an extra dividend.

Q. Do you like the motors?

So Miss Torre Went to Jail

By Westbrook Pegler

Honor is a strictly personal and human matter. As confidants of trusting individuals, we of the press are not areas of newsprint with designs of ink upon it. We remain individual men and women. We get paid for this and the risk, after all, is microscopic.

We are in fact, so hard up for a martyr that we venerate Zenger even though he did not get hung. In recent times Ed Leech, an editor for Scripps-McRae, did bits in jail for contempt in Memphis and Birmingham.

But those were lean and hungry days and we used to mock his anguish with intimation that whenever he found himself really good and hungry he insulted some judge.

And so when Miss Marie Torre, of the New York Herald Tribune, went off to a cheery, comfortable jail in Jersey to do 10 days for refusing to name an informant in a petty item of movie gossip, the newspaper coverage, the editorial comment and the court record all were based on a mistake. Freedom of the press was not in jeopardy.

This lady had given a vow not to reveal the identity of someone who had told her something. Under the law she had to break that vow or go to jail for contempt.

AFTER ELABORATE APPEAL amenities and obsequies, the U.S. marshal's Tumbler took her away to her martyrdom in a warm private room with bath. Lucille Miller, of Vermont, a sick, fat, old patriot seized on a mere suspicion of dementia later proved false was taken from her husband and children and thrown into the horrible New York Women's house of detention and wrote a classical description of her companions and her awful experience. The press ignored her although she was not under sentence for any offense and freedom of the press really was the issue.

The federal court in the person of Sylvester Ryan, a Bronx County politician happily insured against went forever, was very kind to Miss Torre. One more round of courtesies and he might have kissed her hood-bye. Poor Ryan may have thought he deserved some tears for himself upon there doing his duty as brave Judge Lynch of Galway did when he hanged his own by for murder.

Ryan's proposition that Miss Torre is a Jeanne D'Arc was editorial and silly, not judicial and respectable. Her punishment is nominal, as she probably knew it must be, she will collect a substantial profit from the experience and, finally, as a person of honor, she had no alternative. Does the plain, lucrative almost painless observance of a moral undertaking deserve all this outcry? If so, how low we have fallen!

You may say the Herald Tribune gave the promise, but, granting for the sake of argument, that it did, does a commercial corporation enjoy the confessional privilege?

Cuban Question

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The announced purpose of Fidel Castro's revolution, which threw out the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista, was to restore democracy to Cuba. The question now is will it?

The revolutionary government established by Castro — with the Provisional President, Manuel Urrutia, handicapped by him — has dissolved the Cuban Congress and announced it will rule by decree for at least 18 months.

That means—no matter by what name it is called nor how benevolent it may be—Cuba will be under a dictatorship for at least another year and a half. At the end of that time, new elections are supposed to be held.

The stated reason for the 18-month delay is to let new political parties organize so they can compete in the elections.

Just because there will be a dictatorship until then, new factions may arise, even among Castro's followers, because of dissatisfaction with the revolutionary government and the course it follows.

Factions mean disputes and disputes can lead to new civil war. Castro has pledged that his country will remain a democracy. But the executions being carried out now by his followers against former lackeys and spies of Batista are not in accordance with democratic processes.

The men executed by firing squads have not been given regular trials, with full legal protections. At best they've been given revolutionary trials. Castro justifies them on these grounds:

That "anyone who has killed 15 or 30 people has no right to live." This is Castro passing judgment.

Important Message

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ike Revealed Himself in Press Conference

President Eisenhower may have thought he was addressing the most important audience in the nation when he talked to both houses of Congress, but he was mistaken. His audience at a 50th anniversary celebration of the National Press Club of Washington was really more important.

For, in his address to the Congress, the President revealed the national and international policies of his administration. To the press he revealed Dwight Eisenhower—the man, the soldier, and the chief executive of the most powerful government in the free world. He spoke to far more newspapermen than are eligible to attend his usual press conferences at the White House.

Contrary to the insidious propaganda that has in recent months been spread in America, Mr. Eisenhower was no invalid standing before the members of the press, nor an individual, as sometimes pictured, indifferent to the cares of his office.

No "part-time" president of hesitant speech stood before the assembled newspapermen and their associates but a chief executive of erect bearing whose ruddy face, alertness and directness of speech gave an even better impression of health and vigor than six years ago when he was inaugurated.

Dwight Eisenhower has his critics — they differ with him vehemently on public questions. But few persons who have watched him in public office would deny that he has an innate graciousness and kindness toward his fellow man, natural and spontaneous, which is his biggest asset.

WHEN THE PRESIDENT was asked by the newsmen to do a bit of reminiscence about his work as head of the Allied Armies in World War II, he did so with characteristic modesty. He gave credit to his associate commanders and to his staff.

He conceded that there had once been doubts among our allies as to how the war should be fought—whether the invasion of Normandy was wise and the length of time it might take to achieve victory. "But," he said, with a smile, "we won."

Looking back to those fateful days of the war when the lives of millions of American and Allied soldiers depended upon the wisdom and judgment of the commanders, one wonders why today there are even a few misguided persons writing for the press or making partisan speeches who would question for a moment the fidelity to his job which Dwight Eisenhower as a man of military tradition gives to the constitutional office to which he is bound by oath to serve faithfully.

Arguments on public policy involve natural differences of opinion and there is justification for sharp debate on issues and principles. But respect must be given to the chief executive as a person, especially when he is honestly trying to carry out the duties of his office.

This correspondent recalls that he expressed the same view when attacks of a personal nature were made against Presidents Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman.

Politics sometimes regrettably becomes intensely personal but no man in the White House in the memory of this correspondent has been subjected more to the sniping barbs of politically minded individuals than Dwight Eisenhower.

AS A PRESIDENT, Mr. Eisenhower will rank high in history, not because he has succeeded in every policy but because he has dealt earnestly and sincerely with some of the most frustrating problems that ever faced a chief executive in our history.

Even as he spoke at the National Press Club, he was notable to give off-the-cuff the detailed or comprehensive answers which some of the newsmen wanted. But no president can enunciate policies in impromptu fashion. He can explain their background but in a "cold war," with every word that a president says cabled immediately around the world, it becomes necessary to be both cautious and restrained.

The presidency itself is today an impossible job. The public expects one man to be policy maker, administrator, debater, showman and leader of popular causes, and with all that to make progress in government, notwithstanding that the opposite political party has an overwhelming majority in both houses of Congress.

Some day the American people will have to face up to the fact that they must adopt a Cabinet system of government as an integral part of the national legislature so that leadership may come from the ranks of the legislators of experience, as in the parliamentary systems abroad.

But until that time comes, popular personalities without experience or background in governmental affairs will intermittently be elected to the presidency and it is to be hoped they will all have the common sense, the quiet dignity and honesty of purpose that Dwight Eisenhower has exhibited in his career both as a soldier and chief executive.

It always happens like this. You think you have an original idea, but someone else thought of it long ago.

The Cult of Resters that I thought was going to be my claim to fame and my meal ticket is not the first of its kind.

John C. Venier of Eastlake, Ohio, has been president of an outfit called the Take-It-Easy Club for 12 years and says the club has 50,000 members, including President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Bob Hope and other notables.

There is a difference, however, between the Take-It-Easy Club and my Cult of Resters. His is an organization of well adjusted people who are dedicated to the proposition that the way to live long and like it is to take an easy-going attitude about their work.

My organization, on the other hand, is not for well adjusted people. They need no help. My outfit makes its pitch to misfits who need help quick.

These people aren't looking for another club to join. They are desperate. They want to sign up with a cult and get quick relief. I had hoped to avoid getups, but the Cult of Resters will need a distinctive uniform. All of us are going to wear full-length bathrobes and bedroom slippers when we get this thing going.

This will advertise the message of our cult: Sleep on it.

Our pictures will be in the papers. Take-It-Easy Venier, on the other hand, has played it serene and cool in a business suit. "The secret is learning to relax on the inside while looking after business on the outside," he explains.

That may be all right for him and his associates, but it is no good for us Rest Culters. We aim

Few Companies Shared In Defense Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — About three-fourths of the total spending on defense contracts went to 100 prime contractors and organizations during the 12 months ending last June 30.

A periodic list of major defense contractors, issued by the Pentagon today, noted also that compared with the previous 12 months the top 100 firms received a larger share of military money.

The report was issued at a time when there is agitation in Congress over concentration of defense contracts.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee has called for an investigation of what he termed possible favoritism in the award of contracts.

The company getting the largest dollar value of contracts last fiscal year was Boeing, builders of the B52 jet bomber, jet tankers and missiles; second was General Dynamics Corp., makers of missiles, submarines and a variety of military equipment.

Among other major contractors the ranking were: General Electric, Lockheed Aircraft, United Aircraft, American Telephone & Telegraph, North American Aviation, Douglas Aircraft, Hughes Aircraft, and Martin Co.

RELIABLE

Mental Indolence

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "The biggest enemy of human progress is mental indolence," said Robert Maynard Hutchins, who will be 60 years old Saturday.

"As Aristotle said, 'Learning is accompanied by pain.' Too many people won't go through that pain," he said.

"The biggest mistake man makes is that he doesn't think through the question of just what is really worthwhile."

The onetime "boy wonder" of the educational world—he was secretary of Yale at 23, dean of its law school at 28, and president of the University of Chicago at 30—is still a figure of controversy as head of the Fund for the Republic.

At 60 he looks 50. His crew cut hair is graying, but his 6-foot-3 frame shows no sign of a paunch. Nor does his mind. He is as ready as ever to fight for his ideas, but still professes surprise that his ideas stir up so much controversy.

"It is remarkable to me that people think of a critic in an adverse sense," he observed. "Criticism to me means appraisal. To most people it seems to mean attack. But to lay the basis for improvement in any field you first have to point out that things are not already perfect."

Hutchins has been assailed as an iconoclast, a cynic and a pessimist. He regards himself as more of an optimist, feels the general level of the world today is better than it has ever been, and is strongly hopeful of human progress.

"Yes, I am hopeful," he said, smiling. "But if pressed for specific grounds for my optimism I might be at a loss to explain why."

"I don't believe, however, that things just get better and better by themselves every day. A tremendous exercise of human will and intelligence is necessary to achieve progress.

"And I think that everything that is called progress isn't necessarily real progress."

"I do feel, what many of my contemporaries don't feel, a sense of crisis—and it has very little to do with the Russians. If all the Russians were to disappear tomorrow—or become Republicans—everything wouldn't be fine. We must find our own standards and our own purposes, and not measure our own effort by the activities of people we deplore."

"The crisis I feel is a crisis about the whole American tradition. The question is whether our own democratic institutions can stand the strains and pressures of a large, heterogeneous, bureaucratic society—whether the individual can stay free."

Convinced that civilization cannot withstand another general war, Hutchins sees only final disaster in a continued armament race.

Hutchins still feels American universities spend too much effort teaching students how to earn a living instead of developing their intellectual powers, still feels men will never learn to live reasonably until they first learn to reason better.

His own philosophy, he said, is summed up in this quotation attributed to both Charles the Bold and William the Silent:

"It is not necessary to hope in order to undertake, nor to succeed in order to persevere."

Earl Buchholz Upset In Australian Tennis Tournament

Gibson Victor In Four Sets

Young U.S. Hopeful Threatens to Quit

ADELAIDE (AP) — Earl Buchholz, of St. Louis, acclaimed the world's outstanding junior, became the first major casualty of the Australian National Tennis Championship today. And then in a fit of depression said he may quit the game.

Later, after cooling off a bit, he amended the threat to say "I would like to knock off for six months and get back in the right frame of mind."

The unpredictable 18-year-old Missourian, listless and lacking in fire, fell before Neil Gibson, unranked Australian in a second-round match on the Memorial Drive courts. The score was 8-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-1.

It was a miserable day for the lean crewcut American. He accidentally cracked his best two rackets. He served 24 double-faults. He held his violent temper, but in doing so apparently lost his fight and determination.

At the intermission, trailing two sets to one, Buchholz was summoned from the dressing room to the stands and given a pep talk by Perry Jones, captain of the United States Davis Cup team.

Jones reminded Buchholz of his obligation to the U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. which spent about $5,000 to send the boy to Australia and exhorted him "don't think of yourself. Think of the association, St. Louis and your family back home."

Buchholz told his captain that he had no heart for the game and perhaps he should give it up.

"I can't play my best because I am always blowing my top," he said.

Jones counseled that a rest might do Buchholz good, that he must conquer this temper and cultivate a better attitude before he can reach greatness.

Buchholz plans to continue in junior tournament.

The defeat of Buchholz left three members of the U. S. Davis Cup team still in the fight. All scheduled to play Saturday for the right to enter the round of 16.

Toppedseed Alex Olmedo, Peruvian hero of the Davis Cup Challenge Round, faces Wayne Reid, Australian.

Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, plays Queensland junior Ken Fletcher and Chris Crawford, Piedmont, Calif., meets Barry Phillips Moore, Australia.

Purdue, Minnesota Meet in TV Contest

By The Associated Press
Indiana has a chance to break the log jam and take the undisputed Big Ten basketball lead in a game Saturday night against the dangerous Iowa Hawkeyes.

The defending champion Hoosiers are locked with Illinois and Michigan at 3-1 in the race. Illinois and Michigan as well as Michigan State and Wisconsin.

Purdue (1-2) is at Minnesota (1-1) for an afternoon regionally televised contest and Northwestern (2-1) is at Ohio State (0-2) at night to round out the bottled schedule.

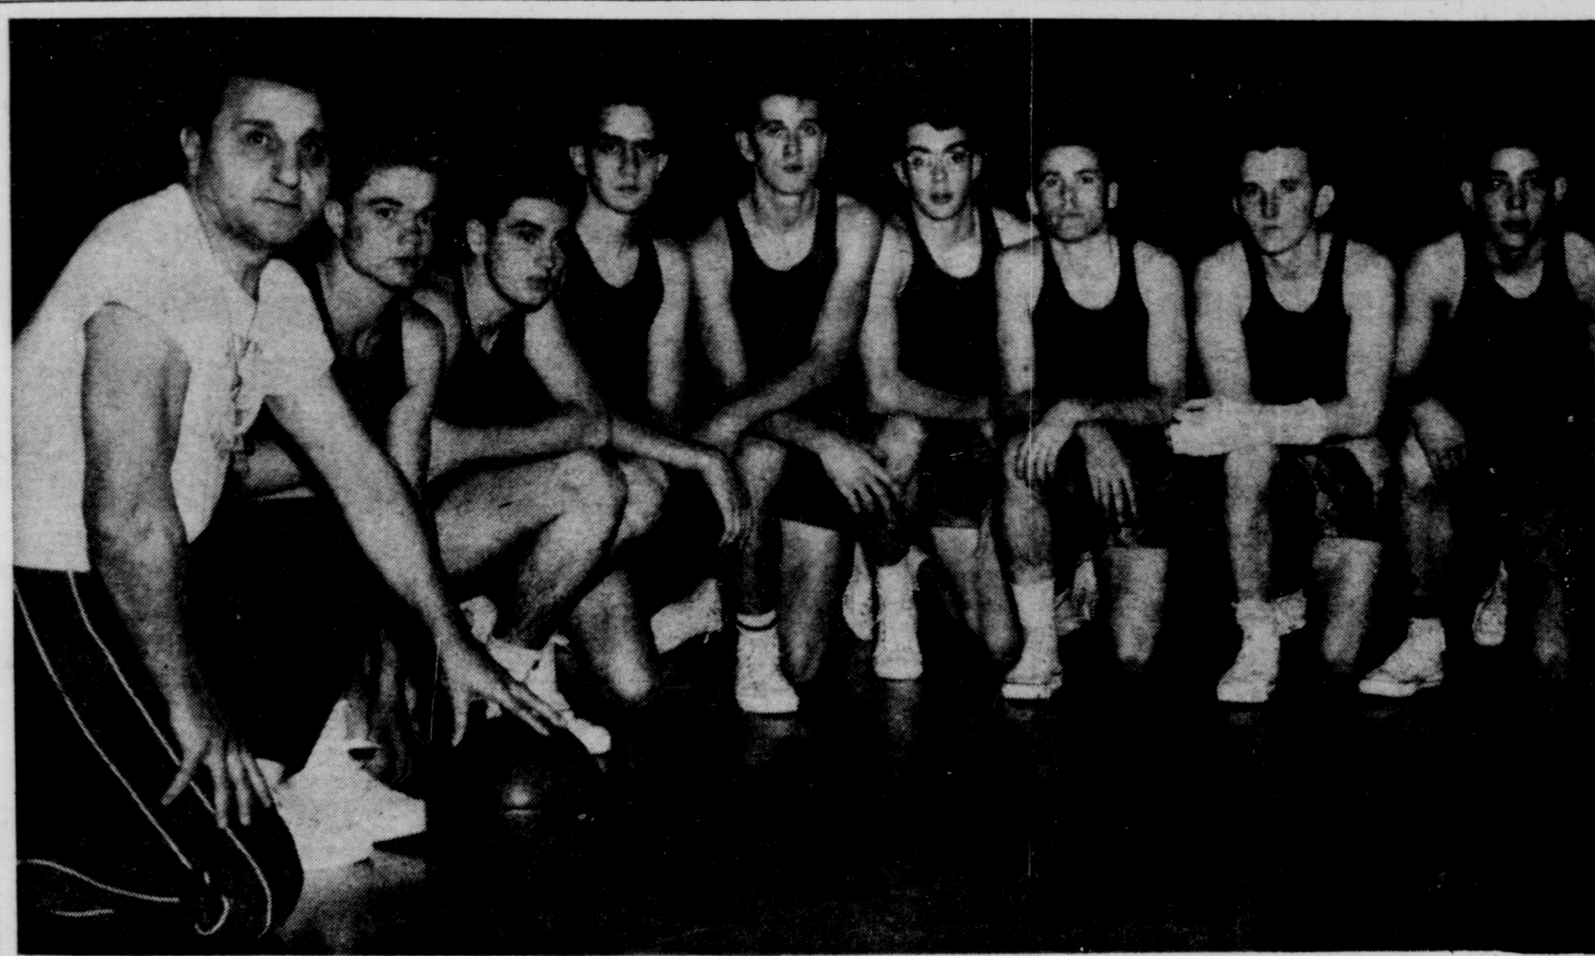

Iowa has a 12 record in three starts against the conference's top-flight clubs. The Hawkeyes were edged 80-77 by Northwestern, crushed Michigan State 68-68 and beaten by Illinois 103-97.

Indiana handed Minnesota its first Big Ten loss 63-59 Monday. The Gophers should prove troublesome on their home floor against Purdue. The Boilermakers were one of the pre-season favorites, but so far have beaten only hapless Wisconsin after losing to Indiana 77-69 and Michigan 82-75.

At Ohio State, Northwestern will face the Big Ten's leading scorer, Larry Huston. He has a 25.5 mark and has hit 15 free throws in a row.

Motorcycle Ice Race Set Sunday On Arrowhead Lake

The first area motorcycle ice race in recent history if not the first ever, is scheduled to be run off Sunday afternoon at Arrowhead Lake near Columbiana.

Competition riders from northeastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania are expected to enter the event, sponsored by the Western Reserve Flyers Motorcycle Club of Salem, which draws its membership from Columbiana, Mahoning and Stark counties.

First heat in the event is set for 1 p.m. on the oval course to be laid out on the ice at Arrowhead, situated on Route 164 near the intersection with Route 14, just north of the Columbiana village limits.

The course will be sanded slightly, especially in the turns, to offer some traction for the two-wheeled machines since they'll be racing without benefit of chains or spiked tires.

A popular spectator sport in states like Wisconsin and Minnesota, the ice race has been sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association, governing body for all cycle competition in the U.S. and Canada.

In the event of a too-heavy snow or an extra-warm spell, the race probably will be held the following weekend.

Title Defense Rule Is Hurt By Taxation
NEW YORK (AP)—Big money-making champions don't have to worry any more about the six months title defense rule. The National Boxing Assn. today just about gave the boot to the often disregarded regulation.

The NBA's executive committee said heavy taxation had made it virtually impossible for the major attractions like middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson and heavyweight king Floyd Patterson to hold strictly to the code.

It made the point at a Thursday meeting in which it accepted assurances from both Robinson and Patterson that they intended to defend their crown this year.

Robinson said he would by May or June (probably against Carmen Basilio) and Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, said Floyd would defend against a yet unnamed opponent "within a reasonable time."

At the same time the committee warned bantamweight champion Alphonse Halimi to defend his crown by April 15 or face loss of the title. He hasn't had a title fight since Nov. 6, 1957.

Robinson's last title fight was last March 25, when he regained the crown from Basilio. Patterson isn't due for a title defense until Feb. 18. He stopped Texan Roy Harris in Los Angeles Aug. 18.

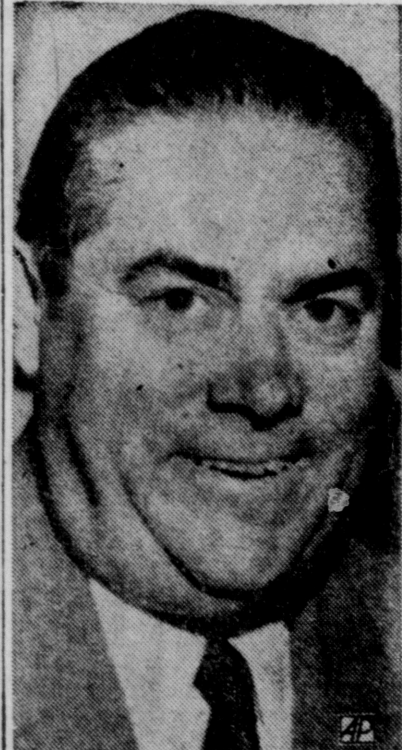

Cincinnati's McMillan Signs Contract for '59
CINCINNATI (AP) — Another mainstay of the Cincinnati Reds — shortstop Roy McMillan — has agreed to terms for the 1959 season.

McMillan, who led the National League shortstops in field last year, signed his contract Thursday and received some high praise from General Manager Gabe Paul.

"He's a symbol on a ball club because of his great determination and the manner in which he goes about playing ball even when under severe handicaps," Paul said. "Roy has played on days when a great many other ball players would not get in uniform."

RESIGNS — H. Roy Hamey, above, resigned as general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies to return to his old post as assistant manager of the world champion New York Yankees.

Hamey will be replaced by John Quinn, who resigned as general manager of the Milwaukee Braves to come to Philadelphia.

Syracuse Nats Defeat Lakers By 111-105

By The Associated Press
The Syracuse Nationals were breathing down the necks of the New York Knickerbockers today in their duel for second place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

Coupling their 111-105 decision over Minneapolis with a 95-91 defeat of New York by Philadelphia in Syracuse Thursday night, the Nats reduced the Knicks' second-place margin to two games.

In racking up their fifth straight victory, the Nats built a 15-point early lead, but saw it drop to three with 42 seconds remaining. Then Larry Costello and Dolph Schayes rallied the home forces and they won going away.

Schayes and rookie Hal Greer each scored 21 points in pacing the Nats.

The Warriors held a 13-point lead in the third before the New Yorkers pulled even at 78 with a little more than 10 minutes to go.

Then Paul Arizin, who topped all scorers with 30 points, and Woody Sauldsberry, who had 21, hit successive field goals and the Warriors never were headed.

Capital Roms Over Kenyon by 69-43

By The Associated Press
The winless stayed winless on the Ohio college basketball front Thursday night.

Kenyon, which hadn't won a game in five straight starts, dropped another one as Capital romped over the Lords, 69-43. Kenyon could only make 16 of 70 shots from the field while Capital sunk 24 of 52.

Otterbein was handed its ninth straight setback as Oberlin coasted to a 75-59 victory paced by Ron Jacobs' 24 points.

Both games were Ohio Conference affairs.

The only other battles were inter-state contests:

Kentucky State whipped Central State, 94-71, in a game marred by 66 personal fouls—35 against the Kentuckians and 31 against the Ohioans.

Findlay, ahead by only two points at intermission, used a pressing defense in the second half to defeat Wheeling of West Virginia 59-39.

VOLLEYBALL RESULTS
Electric Furnace, Kiwanis and the Buckeye AC each won all three of their volleyball matches while Foreman's Window took two of three in action Thursday night.

Furnace whipped Eljer 15-2, 15-6, and 15-10; Kiwanis defeated the Post Office 14-8, 15-2 and 15-6 while Buckeye downed Bliss 15-3, 11-9 and 15-4.

In one other city volleyball match Foreman's beat Ohio Edison 6-13, 15-7 and 14-12.

Utah Cagers Win 5th Straight; Villanova Smashes Brandeis

Jack Gardner, the sometimes excitable Utah basketball coach who swigs two quarts of milk a game to soothe his hurts, has a much more pleasant remedy today—a tidy winning streak and first place in the Skyline Conference.

The Utes' string went to five and their conference record to 3-0 Thursday night in a 76-50 whipping of New Mexico. With a combination of brawn and height on the court, Gardner probably has the quietest stomach since he bagged his last Skyline title three seasons ago.

Since the consolation finals of the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York last month, the Utes have been winging in championship form.

Dick Ruffell, a dandy sophomore flipped in 18 points as Utah hit at a 46.6 per cent pace against New Mexico. Carney Crisler and Jim Rhead, two others who rode the bench only three weeks ago, have helped the Utes in the conference race.

Denver, with George De Roos and Bob Grinstead each scoring 16 downed Montana 66-62 in another Skyline game, and Virginia on its first Atlantic Coast Conference game in seven tries, 86-67 over Duke as Paul Adkins scored 24 points and 6-7, 240-pound Herb Busch added 20.

George Washington had a 54.8 shooting percentage in walloping Virginia Military 79-63 in Southern Conference play behind 20 points from Billy Talasky and 19 from Bucky McDonald.

In the Ohio Valley Conference, Morehead of Kentucky defeated East Tennessee 83-77 and Eastern Kentucky routed Middle Tennessee, 93-66.

Villanova, with soph Jim Huggard scoring 26 points, bagged its 10th victory in 11 games 101-75 over Brandeis, and Florida built up a 23-point halftime lead and coasted to an 85-70 decision over Miami of Florida.

Other major results included Stetson 65, Tampa 58, Mississippi Southern 75, Spring Hill 70, and Presbyterian 81, Erskine 61.

Boston's Harris to Fill General Manager Slot
BOSTON (AP) — Bucky Harris has reached what he believes is the goal of every baseball man — a major league general manager's job.

Harris, 62, who was succeeded by Joe Cronin as Boston field boss in 1934, Thursday was named to follow Joe as head of the Red Sox.

After 13 years as a major league infielder and 29 as a manager, Bucky spent the last two seasons as a special assistant to Cronin.

Harris learned of his promotion in a phone call from Cronin in Chicago where Joe had just been approved for the American League presidency.

AMHERST MAN KILLED
ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — William Meredith, 52, of nearby Amherst was killed Thursday in a two-car collision on Ohio 10 east of here. The driver of the other car, John Leroy Lundell, 32, of Clyde, was injured and taken to Elyria Memorial Hospital.

Virginia Dare, first child of English parentage to be born in the New World was born in Sir Walter Raleigh's "Lost Colony" of 1587, which was on Roanoke Island, N.C.

Red Sox's Mike Higgins Faces 'Big Experiment' This Season

NEW YORK (AP) — It is quite possible that the Boston Red Sox will present a new pitching and catching staff in 1959 as Manager Mike Higgins prepares for the big experiment this year.

Higgins has four of the youngsters regarded as the best pitching prospects in the Red Sox organization. They are righthanders Jerry Casale and Bill Monbouquette and lefthanders Ted Bowsfield and Frank Baumann.

Casale, 25, a native of Brooklyn, was released by the Army last September. He spent the last couple of weeks of the campaign with the Red Sox.

He won 19 games for San Francisco, then in the Pacific Coast League, before entering the service and was the top prospect in the Boston chain. He appeared in two games last fall in relief and did not allow a run in the three innings he pitched.

Signed at 17, Casale was given a $20,000 bonus in 1951 and the Red Sox think he now is ready to pay dividends.

Bowsfield and Monbouquette were brought up by Boston after the All-Star game in 1958. Bowsfield, 23, won four games. Monbouquette, 22, won three and lost four. Higgins thinks both now are ready.

This is the last chance for Baumann to make the grade. He was shipped to Memphis in the Southern Assn. late last spring where he won eight and lost three for a second-division club. Boston paid him an $80,000 bonus in 1953.

Other rookie pitchers include Ted Wills, Arnold Earley and Tom Borland, all southpaws.

There will be five new catchers, not counting Haywood Sullivan, in camp. The latter looked like he was ready to take over a regular job last spring when he injured his back and had to undergo major surgery.

The best of the newcomers may be Jerry Zimmerman, who was supposed to be a $100,000 beauty when the Red Sox signed him out of high school five years ago. This past season at Minneapolis he was understudy to Ed Sadowski, another Boston rookie.

Sadowski, a pull hitter, batted .262 and hit 15 home runs while Zimmerman hit .256 with only two homers. But Zimmerman became the fair-haired lad, as the Millers won the Little World's Series.

Another hot prospect is Don Gile, who hit 24 homers and knocked in 84 runs for Allentown in the Eastern League. Jim Gagliardi, another big money bonus boy, batted .227 at Memphis and .255 at Allentown. Joe Thies comes from Raleigh, N.C., where he batted .292 with 10 homers.

Elijah Gerry Green, who prefers to be called "Pumpie," may become the first Negro to make the grade with the Red Sox. A 24-year-old shortstop, he batted .253 at Minneapolis where he was regarded as one of the outstanding defensive infielders in the minors.

Pumpie may make it as a utility man as he can play any position in the infield.

THE NEW 1959 DODGE "SIERRA" STATION WAGON

Maybe you're one of the many folks who keep saying, "My next car will be a station wagon." Well, here's the model you'll go for — BUT QUICK! It's the new 1959 Dodge 4-Door "Sierra" and you can own it in either the 6-passenger model or the 9-passenger model with that popular rear-facing "Spectator" third seat.

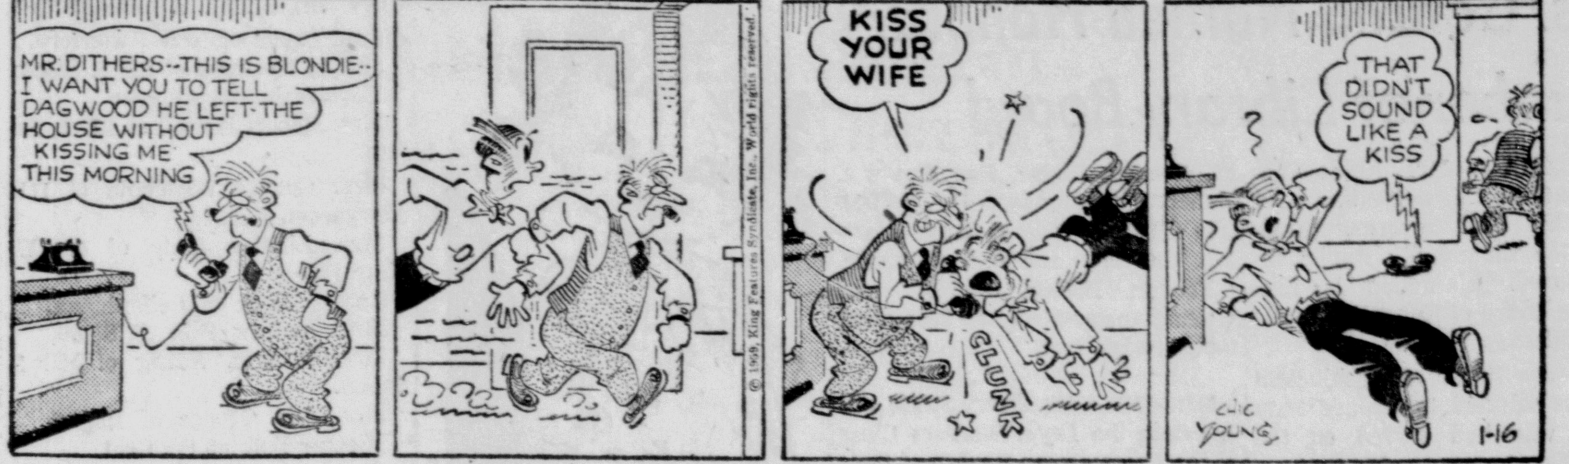

Stop in and make friends with this handsome "Sierra". It's long, low and wide with passenger and cargo space to spare. It's ruggedly built, but its Torsion-Aire suspension and sure-grip differential promises smooth, easy going anywhere. For 1959, Dodge makes available a long list of exclusive features that you won't find in other wagons. Come and look this beauty over real soon!
